Dear HPBC/Hopewell Museum Members & Friends:

As some of you may have already heard, my husband has accepted a new position at Western Kentucky University, starting in the new school year. I am planning on staying with the organization while we try to sell our house. I will work with the Board and do everything I can to make an eventual transition as smooth as possible, whenever that may be. I will be sure to communicate to you whenever I have a more official timeline.

Please know how appreciative I am that I have had the opportunity to be your Director. I am passionate about this work and share your commitment to this organization in order to preserve Bourbon County’s rich history and culture. I am fully confident that with the continued support of you, the organization’s members, our dedicated volunteers, and an engaged Board embarking on our new strategic plan, HPBC/HM will continue in its strong legacy and has a bright future ahead.

I look forward to continuing working with you in our time together to achieve our mission for the community and appreciate your continued support of me and HPBC/HM.

Sincerely,
Leah
